Calling on Kids to Help Quit the Littering

The Quit the Littering Coloring Calendar Contest has been extended till November 9th!

Sometimes the best ideas come from the youngest minds and that is why we're asking the kids of Boone County to think about the mess and consequences that litter creates for our communities and help us do something about it.

All Boone County kids ages 5 to 11 are invited to pour their creative energy into ideas to help keep our communities clean and draw a black and white line drawing based on those thoughts. Then, the thirteen clearest and most inventive drawings will be chosen to be included in a 2010 calendar/coloring book that is distributed across the County. Runners-Up will have portions of their entries featured on posters that will advertise our fabulous calendars. Entrants may also compose a snappy anti-litter slogan and twelve of these slogan writers will be selected to be included in the calendar.

Prizes include gift cards, goodie bags and fame as well as special recognition by Boone County Judge-Executive Gary Moore at the Fiscal Court meeting on December 22. Winners will also be featured on public-access cable television and on the Boone County website. Deadline for entries is November 9th.

Parents and teachers can find info and entry forms at www.boonecountyky.org/BCSWM, or simply call or email Kelly at 859-334-3629 or kchapman@boonecountyky.org.
